

2019 Joint Meeting Attendee Survey Summary

The Joint Meeting seeks to provide a forum at which manufacturers, quality, safety and efficacy experts, procurement agencies, and international donors working in public health, can come together to discuss issues around production and supply of quality in vitro diagnostics, essential medicines, vaccines, vector control and reproductive health products needed for vulnerable populations. This survey was conducted to measure attendee reactions to the programme and provide a basis upon which to improve future meetings.

Best Parts of 2019 Joint Meeting:

- 1:1 Meetings Between UN Agencies and Manufacturers (the average satisfaction rating score for a 1:1 meeting was 4.4 / 5.0)
- WHO PQ Sessions
- Procurement Sessions

Suggestions To Improve Future Meetings:

- Reduce number of sessions conducted in parallel (e.g., several product stream tracks are relevant; cannot attend all sessions of interest; will miss important information, etc.)
- Improve the food service (e.g., better quality, availability and variety; sufficient quantities; vegetarian selections, etc.)
- 1:1 meetings – increase available time / better scheduling

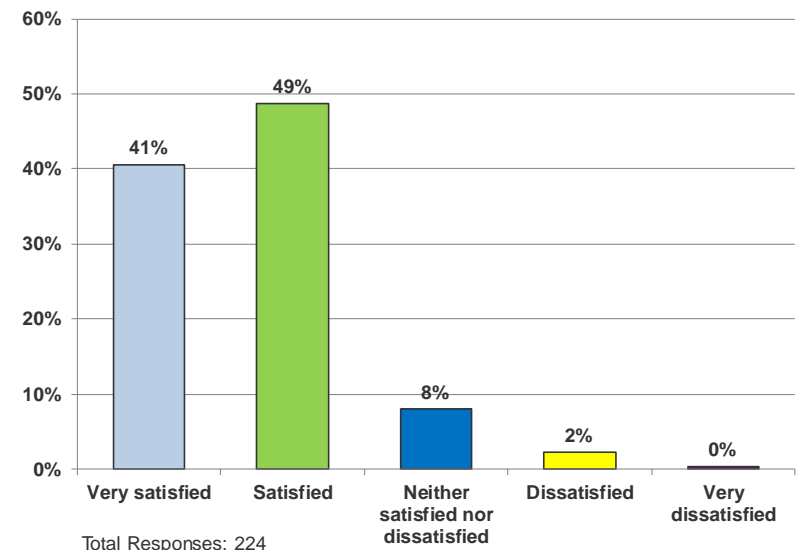

Findings are based upon 232 responses returned from a survey of attendees of the 2019 Joint Meeting. The survey was designed and conducted by an independent research consulting company.

"The speakers that pushed our conventional way of thinking and called out problem areas were extremely helpful." -- Attending NGO

"[The] plenary sessions were well planned and organised; all areas of my interest were represented." – Attending UN Agency

"...very well selected topics providing...key updates [and the] opportunity for 1:1 meetings." – Attending Manufacturer

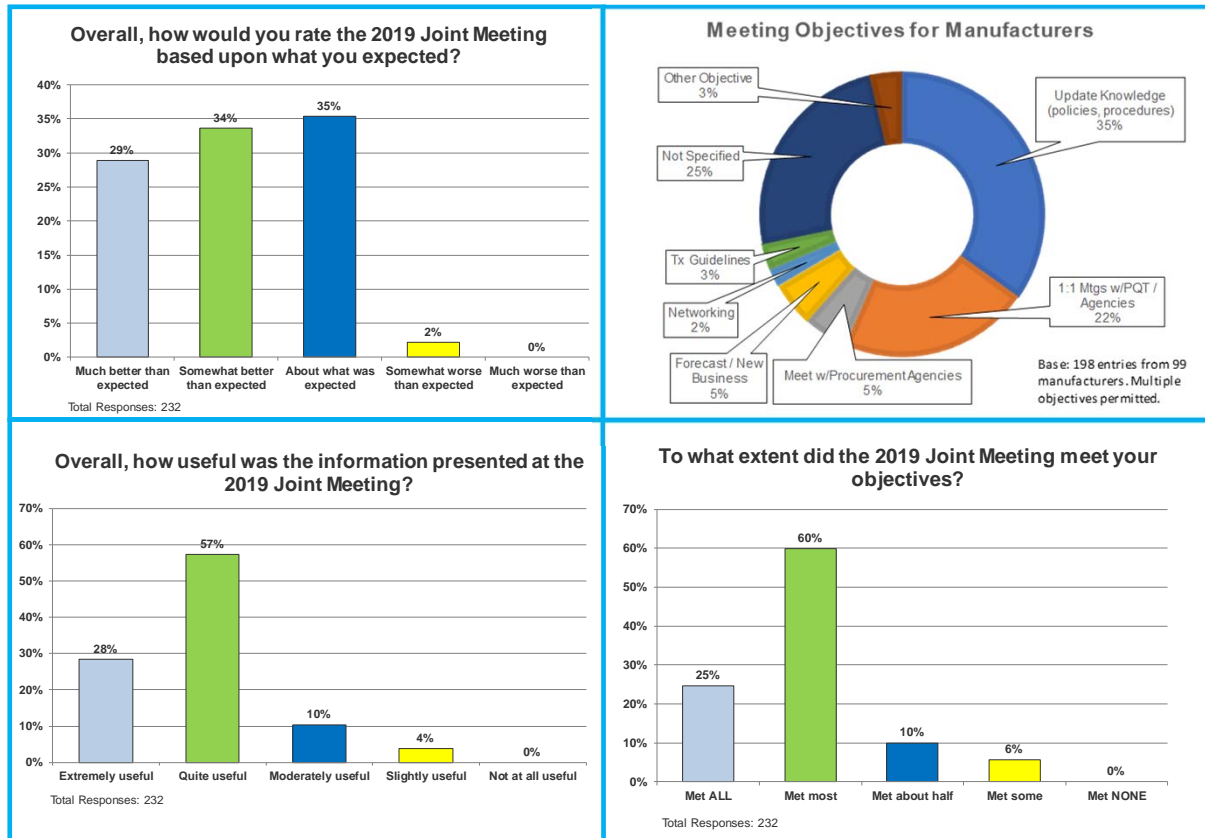

Overall, how satisfied were you with the 2019 Joint Meeting?

Joint UNICEF, UNFPA & WHO MEETING with manufacturers and suppliers

Copenhagen, Denmark 2 - 5 December 2019

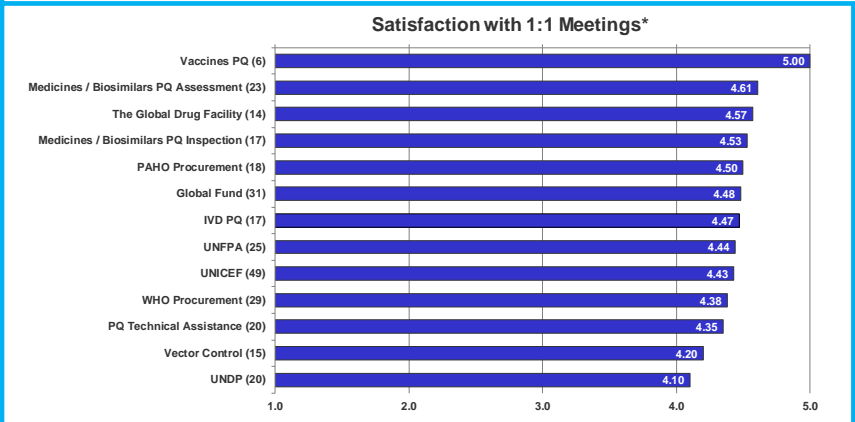

2019 Joint Meeting Attendee Survey Summary

"[Most important was the message of]...the need to change the way we engage with industry and the need [to] drive serious change..." – Attending NGO

"[The best part was the...] the possibility to reach out to companies we do not see at our Agency." – Attending Regulator

"[The best part of the meeting was...] "the atmosphere: a very complex set of topics was discussed via extremely well-structured agenda, with presentations tailored to deliver key messages to a diverse range of participants." – Attending Donor Organization

Findings are based upon 232 responses returned from a survey of attendees of the 2019 Joint Meeting. The survey was designed and conducted by an independent research consulting company.

Satisfaction measured on a 5-point scale, where "5" is "very satisfied", "1" is "very dissatisfied" and the numbers 2 – 4 are varying degrees in between.

Joint UNICEF, UNFPA & WHO MEETING with manufacturers and suppliers

T4R

Copenhagen, Denmark 2 - 5 December 2019