1	Grant size and duration: What is the typical (range of) grant amount awarded (not counting the co-financing)?	The size of the grant awarded is ranging from $100,000 to $200,000 per project. This, however, does not imply that applications for larger or smaller projects would not be considered.
2	Is there a total available budget and an expected ticket size? This will help us to plan the scale of the proposal.
3	What is the range of funding for each project and scale of funding for each project or country?
4	Consortium of applicants: Can two or more applicants apply together as a consortium, with one organization being the lead applicant?	We allow and also encourage consortiums. However, one entity should be in charge and serve as the legal counterpart of UNOPS.
5	Geographic scope of project: Do you have a preference for projects that are single-country (i.e. taking place in only 01 country) or those that are multi-countries?	The scope of the CFP for Energy Efficiency Innovation Window covers Indonesia, the Philippines and Vietnam. The proposed intervention can address one or more countries of the scope with no preference over the single or multi-country coverage. As indicated in the Call, interventions with a focus on Viet Nam are encouraged for application.
6	What is the intended length of the implementation period? Are we free to choose or do you mandate the length?	There is no specific set limitation on the length of the implementation period. The Call looks for applicants' expertise and vision on this. The main consideration regarding the time is that the topic at hand is an urgent one and subject to a fast-changing environment; any proposal should consider this and be relevant for its proposed duration.
7	What is an indicator for "solution readiness"?	"Solution Readiness" is defined as how quick the proposed intervention/business model can be deployed in the market. Is the product, service, or initiative ready to go to market? (e.g., within a period of 6 months or less)
8	How are we to account for impact: within the implementation period or during the duration of the lifetime of the project activities? To the extent that our actions enable follow on actions (i.e. as a result of barrier removal activities) = indirect effects, can we account for those as well?	The proposal should account for the project's impact during the lifetime of its activities. The proposal should define (i) What the pathway to achieve this result is and (ii) How the measurement and verification of these results will be implemented?
9	Amount of co-funding: can you provide a concrete definition of in-kind, direct and aligned 3rd party funding? I assume that this co-funding must be related to cover the cost of activities that are 100% included in the scope of our proposed work (please confirm)? If so, what means of verification do you require?	Yes, the Co-funding is the level of cost-sharing of the activities between the EEIW Grant and the entity to ensure the entity's commitment and ownership to their proposed interventions. Co-funding could be in a form of Direct Funding from the bidding entity or an external 3rd Party Funding to fund share the cost of the project (minimum 1:1 threshold) as well as in-kind contributions of goods and services other than cash. To verify, the funds that are co-financed should be adequately documented in the form of financial statements or handover certificates.
10	The RfP mentions a country focus on Vietnam, Indonesia and the Philippines (with preference for Vietnam) but country focus is not part of the evaluation. How do you thus evaluate country selection? Also, how do you consider multi-country/regional proposals?	We strongly encourage proposals that center on Viet Nam and hope to receive a number of those. However, the evaluation criteria will not put more emphasis on one country over the other. There is no limitation regarding multi-country/regional proposals. Those will equally be considered as part of the evaluation
11	Do you expect a proposal to fall fully within ONE category (project development, access to finance, regulatory) or can a proposal cut across categories?	The proposal can cut across categories.
