INTRODUCTION TO UNHCR

The Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees was established in 1950 by the United Nations General Assembly to lead and co-ordinate international actions to protect refugees and to identify lasting solutions for them. The organization’s primary purpose today is to safeguard the rights and well-being of refugees, forcibly displaced communities and stateless people worldwide.

In more than six decades, the agency has helped tens of millions of people restart their lives. Today, a staff of some 16,800 people in 134 countries work to help about 70.8 million displaced people. For further information on UNHCR, its mandate and operations please see <http://www.unhcr.org>.

I. General information

UNHCR seeks to reduce its CO2 emissions by 45% by 2030. To achieve this goal, UNHCR established the Green Financing Facility, an innovative financing model to migrate its over 530 UNHCR offices worldwide from fossil fuels to renewable energy. To reach this goal sustainably, there is anticipated to be private sector collaboration through procurement modalities for off- and on-grid solar and solar hybrid projects in different scales. To enable flexibility in high-risk areas, UNHCR is investigating the opportunities for modular solar solutions in addition to stationary hybrid systems within the different operation sites. Assessments for a pilot site in East Africa are underway with the UNHCR targeting implementation of a modular solution in 2022.
