Clarification of Bids may be provided only in response to UNFPA request for clarification or request for additional information.

26. Preliminary examination of Bids

- 26.1. Prior to the detailed evaluation, UNFPA shall examine the Bids to determine whether they are complete with respect to minimum documentation requirements, whether the documents are properly signed, whether any computational errors have been made and whether the Bids are generally in order.
- 26.2. The procurement official will determine the substantial responsiveness of each Bid to the RFP during the preliminary examination.
- 26.3. A substantially responsive Bid conforms to all the terms, conditions, and specifications of the Bidding documents without material deviation, reservation, or omission. A material deviation, reservation, or omission is one that:
  - 26.3.1. Affects in any substantial way the scope, quality, or services specified; or
  - 26.3.2. Limits in any substantial way, inconsistent with the Bidding documents, UNFPA's rights or the Bidder's obligations under the contract; or

  - 26.4.1. During preliminary examination of Bids
    - 26.4.1.1. Absence of Bid form(s), change in the wording or lack of signature on key portions of the Bid form when this is clearly required. Any change in wording that is consistent with the standard format of the Bid form(s) is not a material deviation;

27. Non-conformities, errors, and omissions

- 27.1. Provided that a Bid is substantially responsive:
  - 27.1.1. UNFPA may waive any non-conformities or omissions in the Bid that do not constitute a material deviation.
  - 27.1.2. UNFPA may request the Bidder to submit the necessary information or documentation within a reasonable period of time to rectify non-material non-conformities or omissions in the Bid related to documentation requirements. Such omission shall not be related to any aspect of the price of the Bid. Failure of the Bidder to comply with the request may result in the rejection of its Bid.
  - 27.1.3. UNFPA shall correct arithmetical errors on the following basis:
    - 27.1.3.1. If there is a discrepancy between the unit price and the line item total that is obtained by multiplying the unit price by the quantity, the unit price shall prevail, and the line item total shall be corrected, unless in the opinion of UNFPA there is an obvious misplacement of the decimal point in the unit price. In that case the line item total as quoted shall govern, and the unit price shall be corrected;
    - 27.1.3.2. If there is an error in a total corresponding to the addition or subtraction of subtotals, the subtotals shall prevail and the total shall be corrected.

28. Evaluation of Bids

30.2. SECTION VI – ANNEX C: BIDDER IDENTIFICATION FORM and SECTION VI – ANNEX D: BIDDER’S PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE of this document will be evaluated based on the criteria provided below to assess the degree of Bidder qualification for the proposed contract.

Number	Supplier Qualification Parameter	Bid is acceptable? (YES/NO)	Justification

31. Financial evaluation

31.1. The Financial Bid will only be evaluated if the Technical Bid achieves the minimum score as indicated in clause 28.2 and is considered qualified through the supplier qualification process described in clause 30. Proposals failing to obtain this minimum technical threshold or those which will not be considered qualified through the supplier qualification process will not be eligible for further consideration.

31.2. The Financial Bid is evaluated on the basis of its responsiveness to the Price Schedule Form SECTION VI – ANNEX E: PRICE SCHEDULE FORM. The maximum number of points for the Financial Bid is 100. This maximum number of points will be allocated to the lowest price. All other Financial Bids will receive points in inverse proportion according to the following formula:

32. Total score

32.1. The total score for each Bidder will be the weighted sum of the technical score and financial score. The maximum total score is 100 points.

SECTION II: TERMS OF REFERENCE (TOR)

Call for Proposals from Media & Communication Companies for the Implementation of a Nationwide Media & Communications Campaign under the “Combating Gender-Based Violence in Mongolia” Project

June 2019

BACKGROUND

UNFPA is the United Nations sexual and reproductive health agency with the mission to deliver a world where every pregnancy is wanted, every childbirth is safe and every young person's potential is fulfilled. In Mongolia, under its sixth country programme, UNFPA works on two major outcome areas: improving sexual and reproductive health of adolescent and young people through service provision and participation and empowerment, and combating Gender-Based Violence.

Gender-based violence (GBV), particularly domestic violence (DV), is a global problem that crosses cultural, geographic, religious, social and economic lines. GBV causes a myriad of physical and mental health issues that span generations, and in some extreme cases, it can result in the loss of life. It is one of the most prevalent forms of human rights violations, and it deprives women of their right to lead fulfilling lives. In fact, according to the National GBV Survey launched in 2018, one in every two women in Mongolia experience abuse at the hands of their partners at least once in their lifetime. This signals an urgent need for action, both in terms of ensuring that GBV survivors receive the help that they need as well as in working toward eradicating GBV altogether.

The Combating Gender-Based Violence (CGBV) in Mongolia Project aims to strengthen national capacity to prevent and respond to GBV by (1) institutionalizing data collection for more targeted interventions; (2) raising awareness among key stakeholders and the public on the realities of GBV; and (3) providing multi-disciplinary responses to GBV and domestic violence.

In the last two years since the Project's implementation began, there have been much progress in setting up the legal framework as well as facilities to respond to GBV. The Project has contributed to the approval of the 2016 revision of the Law to Combat Gender-Based Violence as well as to the development of Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) to operationalize the law in various sectors. The Project has also so far established 7 One Stop Service Centers for survivors of domestic violence across the country, and has trained duty-bearers across sectors to respond to GBV. The different implementing partners have also implemented many public awareness and advocacy campaigns under the Project, and the Media Management and Communications Sub-Committee (“Sub-Committee”) was established to oversee these activities.

However, as pointed out during the Project's mid-term review, there is a need to invest more in GBV prevention, particularly by changing beliefs, values and ideals that could lead to a change in behaviors. The mid-term review also pointed out that some of the public messages communicated by partners in their respective activities under the Project would sometimes be inconsistent or even contradictory of each other. This is an issue as it may lead to confusion or misinformation among the public.

Therefore, an initiative to address these two points is the development of a communications strategy and common messages to guide efforts to educate the public about GBV issues. This strategy will ensure that the consistent and correct messages are communicated to the public by all stakeholders in the most effective ways. The communications strategy was developed by UNFPA's CGBV Project team with input from the Project's implementing partners through the Media Sub-Committee and Technical Committee, in line with UNFPA's corporate views and positions, but there is a need for a Media &

Communications Company with nationwide capacity and resources to implement the activities under this strategy.

Hence, UNFPA Mongolia is seeking proposals from companies that specialize in media production and broadcasting, publishing, public relations and public awareness, advertising, and other related fields (herein after referred to as “Media & Communications Company”) to operationalize the communications strategy into a comprehensive national media and communications plan, and to implement the core interventions of the plan.

OBJECTIVES

The communications strategy, and consequently the media and communications campaign plan and the activities to be implemented under it, all aim to contribute to ensuring that rights-holders and duty-bearers have a better understanding of and higher readiness to address GBV (CGBV Project Outcome 2, full document available upon request). More specifically, these efforts aim to fulfill the following objectives:

- Raise awareness about the reality of GBV, including its prevalence and trends
- Increase understanding of the root causes of GBV, as well as the triggers that aggravate it
- Educate people about life skills that people could learn to prevent GBV

The Media & Communications Company must keep these objectives in mind and ensure that all proposed plans and activities contribute toward their fulfillment.

SCOPE OF WORK

The Media & Communications Company is expected to develop and implement a multimedia campaign in line with the Project’s “Communications Strategy and Key Messages” document (attached document). As such, it is expected that the selected Media & Communications Company will have proven experience in implementing communications campaigns, preferably including public advocacy and awareness campaigns, and other activities defined in the Terms of Reference (ToR). The selected company is expected to introduce innovative but context-sensitive input, provide insights on communications and public relations in the Mongolian context, and have the expertise and appropriate resources to implement activities nationwide.

The Media & Communications Company has the prerogative to enter into a joint venture partnership with another organization to complement their expertise and resources to ensure that all activities and output are satisfactorily implemented. However, the selected Media & Communications Company maintains overall and all-encompassing responsibility to ensuring the timely delivery of high-quality output. The necessary forms for this arrangement is available upon request.
